

Thank you for applying for the position of Data Scientist at Printful. We'd be happy to continue the selection process with you and look forward to receiving your take on our technical task below.

Instructions

1. Before you send us your task or any additional personal information, make sure you've reviewed our recruitment process privacy policy.
 2. Please let us know when we can expect your task (applicants usually send us their tasks in 3 business days).
 3. Create your presentation in Google Slides and send us the link via email. Remember to pick Anyone with the link when editing your link sharing options. Please submit your task in English!
-

Task

Create a sales forecast for the next year, using the data set. Prepare a presentation that includes:

- forecasted results and conclusions from the data
- brief description of steps taken when developing the forecast
- challenges faced when working on the task
- additional information or data points that could've been useful for higher accuracy of the forecast

Note that you'll need to present your task in a video interview.

Thank you and good luck!